

Pirate Code

Many pirate ships had a code of conduct. This was a list of rules that stated how pirates should behave, how the treasure should be divided and how injured pirates should be looked after.

Can you find out more about the pirate code - you could put some of your information into the pirate report you are writing - and then write your own code as if you were the captain of your own ship.