

Look at the two maps. Look at the coloured map showing where the different biomes are can you see which colours tend to neighbour each other. And how the colours tend to follow one another as you go north or south. On the blank map colour the biomes with your own key, don't worry about the teeny tiny patches! Can you add the equator and tropic of Capricorn and Cancer? What biomes follow these lines?