

Literacy this week.

I thought you might enjoy this fable. Fables are stories told to teach us a moral, to help us learn something.

Read the lion and the mouse and think about the moral, answer the questions. Do you know any other fables?

Later in the week I would like you to write your own version of the story where a strong character is saved by a smaller unexpected character, I would like it if you could use interesting animals and set it in a different country or biome. The lion and the mouse has some speech in and yours should to so there is chance to practice during the week.