

RE home school work week beginning 6th July

For the next 2 weeks we are looking at people who have become famous for standing up for what they believe in – even though this has sometimes landed them in a lot of trouble.

This week I would like you to find out about Malala Yousafzai. If you type her name into Google and add ks2 or facts or kids you will make sure that you get to a site that is suitable for you.

Your task is to write a short biography or fact sheet about Malala. You will need to have a paragraph of basic information such as where and when she was born. The next section could be about her early life and her family. Next you will need to explain her beliefs about the importance of education for girls and about the dreadful thing that happened to her. Finally you need to write about what has happened to her since.
